The Maiden's Complaint.

My lover's gone to fight the Don And left me here to pine; Ah! proudly did he march away.
But never since my name,
He took my blessing with him.
He left his heart with me; Ah! never were two lovers More fond or true than we.
I pine for him who loves me, He's gone to fight the Don;
And here the time he spends And all the while he's coming on.

that day and as he will be too busy to be at Las Vegas.

PATRIOTIC COLORED CITIZENS.

Organize a Volunteer Company and Tender Their Services to Governor Otero.

At a meeting of the colored citizens of Santa Fe, presided over by Mr. W. J.
Slaughter, the following communication was drafted for presentation to Governor Otero, and was signed by 40 residents, who desire to fight for the honor of Old Glory in the present conflict with Spain:

To His Excellency, the Hon. M. A. Otero, Governor of New Mexico:

"Sir.—It is a well known fact that among the first patriots who struck the blow for the independence of the United States of America on March 5, 1770, in the city of Boston, that Crispus Attucks, a member of our race, was the first to fall, with three others who were white men, namely, Caldwell, Gray and Maverick.

"It is also a fact that there has not been an important martial conflict in which our country was ever engaged where the struggle for independence or the protection of our flag, that the colored men of America have not taken a conspicuous part as soldiers with white men, and have fought with a bravery and courage that gained for them the respect of their fellow-citizens.

"One thousand of our race fought on the side of the American colonies under Washington during the revolution from 1770 to 1776.

"In the war of 1812, during Madison's administration, a call for volunteers for the Union was issued. Many thousands of our race answered the call, and enlisted under General Jackson, who spoke to the colored troops these encouraging words: 'I invited you to share in the perils, and to divide your glory with your white countrymen. After the war he said: I knew that you could endure hardship, thirst and all the hardships of war, but you have surpassed all of my hopes.'

"In the rebellion of 1861, the colored race furnished no less than 180,000 volunteer soldiers for the protection of the Union.

"Fort Wagner, Milliken's Bend, Port Hudson and Petersburg, they distinguished themselves by their soldierly qualities and bravery.

"Sir.—We have called your attention to a few facts regarding the negro as a soldier, and present to you these names from the colored men of Santa Fe, and nearly all of them have the experience of the life of a soldier, and hold honorable discharges from our government.

"We will also present to you in the near future more names from the different towns in New Mexico, offering you their services, which we believe you will give due consideration and extend to as citizens those rights which we are entitled to."

A TOURIST'S VIEWS.

Well Regulated Cities Give Proper Observance to Street Sprinkling As a Sanitary Measure.

"One of the few objections I can see to Santa Fe," said a tourist to a New Mexican reporter today, "is that on windy days your street sprinkler seems wholly or partially kept in doors. Perhaps few people realize the importance of street sprinkling and know anything of the health endangering results of blowing dust. In all well regulated cities where healthseekers are in evidence, the street sprinklers are sent out promptly at 7 o'clock in the morning.
The reason is that the board of health demands this in the interests of all residents of the community, for the germs of consumption and other diseases contained in the dry spittle expectorated on the streets and sidewalks are picked up by the wind and generally distributed with the dust. In a territory where smallpox and other contagious diseases are known, extra precautions should be taken for the wind will carry bacilli a considerable distance, and often times spread disease in a healthy community.
In talking with a citizen of your city today, I asked why the people of the community did not petition the city council to take a more decided interest in the matter of street sprinkling and he replied that he did not want to move in the matter, because he would be classed as a 'kicker' if he did. That is the height of nonsense. Santa Fe should keep abreast of the times in all sanitary matters or else stop bidding for the presence of healthseekers. It is a menace to the lives of healthy people to be thrown in association with the unhealthy without proper sanitary precautions."

Maine Martyrs National Monument.

The superintendent of public insecution has received a supply of blanks from the committee having the matter in hand, for the purpose of obtaining the signatures of all the school children in the territory. It is proposed to collect the signatures of all the children of all the schools of the United States to be deposited in a special vault under the Maine monument, when the same is completed. The blanks will be sent to all the teachers in the territory at once.

A Good Run on Gold Standard Ore.

News comes to the New Mexican from Gold Standard, a well-known mining camp in southern Santa Fe county, that Carley & Aranda, the owners of the Gold Standard mine there, have just cleaned up the results of a run of 15 tons of ore from their mine in their Huntington mill, and the clean-up brought forth a gold nugget worth $200. Forty dollars per ton ore is pretty good these days, especially when the ore is easily and cheaply mined.

Getting Gun Squad to be Transferred to Troop E.

An order is being prepared at the office of the adjutant general of the territory and will be issued tomorrow, transferring the enlisted men of the Gatling gun squad to troop E, 1st regiment of cavalry, N. M. T. G. This is done to help the cavalry along, as many of its members volunteered and became members of Troop E, 1st regiment U. S. volunteer cavalry, now at San Antonio, Tex.

At the Hotels.

At the Claire: Frank T. Webber, Fredonia, Colo.; C. C. Hitchcock, Ware, Mass.; Dr. Martin, Taos; Julian Nicks, Tres Piedras.

At the Exchange: Mrs. J. Gross and son, Chicago.

At the Bon-Ton: J. B. Wallace, Las Vegas; Jack Walsh, R. T. Raynor, Alamosa; C. A. Schrumm and wife, Glorieta; J. O. Sherman, Lamy; Martin Muniz, Roman Bartamante, Albuquerque; Frank Burnett, Andy Barrah, Las Vegas; J. E. Koogle, John Donahue, Denver.

At the Palace: Ben D. Grant, Denver; B. G. Wilson, Las Vegas; John Kelley, John McManer, Al. Fuller, Cerrillos; W. S. Hopewell, Hillsboro.

A Hundred Reasons.

Can be given why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best and most effective cure for every form of indigestion.
They are in Tablet form which retains their good qualities indefinitely, while liquid preparations become stale and useless with age.

They are convenient, can be carried in the pocket and taken when needed.
They are pleasant to the taste.

After each meal dissolve one or two of them in the mouth and, mingling with the food, they constitute a perfect digestive, absolutely safe for the most sensitive stomach.

They digest the food before it has time to ferment, thus preventing the formation of gas and keeping the blood pure and free from the poisonous products of fermentation, half digested food.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets make the complexion clear by keeping the blood pure.

They increase flesh by digesting flesh-forming foods.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the only remedy designed especially for the cure of stomach troubles and nothing else.

One disease, one remedy, the successful physician of today is the specialist, the successful medicine is the medicine prepared specially for one disease.

A whole package taken at one time would not hurt you, but would simply be a waste of good material.

Over six thousand men and women in the state of Michigan alone have been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia by the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package.

THE GOLDEN COCHITI.

The Water Question Should Be Settled in Favor of the Albamarle People—Newspaper Notes.

Special Correspondence New Mexican.
Bland, May 16.—Blandites note with pleasure the effect of the victories of the American fleet on the money market.
The strained conditions have ceased and eastern investors are ready once more to carry out their plans of development and purchase in this district. It portends for the Cochiti a more successful culmination of the efforts of development during 1898, and will increase the importance of the region an hundredfold.

It is probable that the recent injunction obtained by parties in Peralta canon, restraining the Cochiti Gold Mining company from taking water from that canon for use in operating the Albamarle mill and mine, will be dissolved and a speedy decision effected. The more level-headed and conservative operators in the district realize that a plan of obstruction against a company that has risked so much and done so much to build up the Cochiti will not redound to the credit of the district. The failure of the Al-bamarle would result in irreparable injury to the district and prevent other capital from seeking investment here. They should be tendered every possible support to further their aims and successfully conclude their efforts. Each per-
